Mr. Seymour at Hom'e.

It is objected to Mr. SEYMCOR that he DEN, nor JOHN KELLY, nor both combined, could prevent him from carrying New York if he were nominated for President. His amuzing popularity would override and crush all opposition. No man could stand live. before him. His novalnation in 1868 was owing to the fact that the National Convention was held in New York city, and Mr. | question? SEYROUR'S name could not be mentioned in the ball where it met without evoking a sterm of applause from the New Yorkers that crowded the galleries. His nephew, HORATIO SEYMOUR, Was elected State Engineer last year by a majority of ever 13,060, though every other man on the State ticket of the Democratic party was defeated. His name alone saved him.

But we have no evider ee that Mr. TILpen is opposed to Mr. Figr Mour. We do not credit the statement, although if true it does not want it." "What about his would not fer a moment induce us to believe that his opposition could seriously reduce Mr. SEYMOUR'S vote. Mr. TILDEN might prevent the vote of New York from being given to any man not residing in New York and therefore totally unknown to the masses; but he could not control that vote as against Mr. Servious, who has been over as against Mr. Sermous, who has been over and over agair, elected Governor of New York, and received ber vote in 1868 for President. We have the most conclusive evidence as to Mr. SEYMOUR'S popularity at home in the fact that last year both Til-DEN men and KELLY men entreated him to run for Governor. He steadfastly refused to do so. But the unanimous and pressing call which he received from both sections of the Bemocratic party shows the esteem in which he is held by everybody in that good credit. Let her good name run out State. The leader of the TRIDEN forces at to all the ends of the railroads if not of the St. Louis in 1876 was Governor Dorsheimer, earth. We have a lovely city. Does he desire to see a mon nominated who can't carry New York? To ask such a question is to answer it.

We say that Mr. TILDEN might possibly prevent the full vote of New York State from being cast for a man residing, say for instance, in California, and who is known to the people of that State better because DAVID DUBLEY FIELD and CYRUS W. FIELD are his brothers than for any other reason. With one or both of these brothers of Judge FIELD'S Mr. TILDEN a year or two ago had a most bitter newspaper war-a war not by any means, however, confined to the newspapers. Judge FIELD, therefore, has more reason than any other aspirant to dread the hostile influence of Mr. TH.DEN. If the sage of Gramercy Park shall ever have the opportunity he will doubtless strike at Cyrcs and DAVID through STEPHEN. When he said that he would not object to the candidacy of the last-named-that is, if he ever did winked that defective eye of his. But seto know whether Mr. Tilber is in favor of a candidate or not. We take it that the peo- ject to sending ple of New York are very much like th people of any other State, and cannot be prevented by Mr. TILDEN or anybody else m voting for the nominee of their party and the man of their choice. Either HAN-COCK OF SEYMOUR Would carry New York.

Judge Field.

We are glad to be able to announce that our up-town morning contemporary does not consider Judge FIELD the only man whose claims ought to be weighed by the delegates to Cincinnati from Virginia. We had supposed that it was for FIELD first, last, and all the time; and such seems to have been the general understanding in Richmond. The letters from Mr. LEWIS E. HARVIE, Governor KEMPER, and others, which it recently published, were called out by a man who is not such a strong FIELD man after all. Nor does he press Judge FIELD's claims because he lately delivered able dissenting opinions in several important cases decided by the Supreme Court of the United States. Judge FIELD's friends have expended hundreds and hundreds of dollars in having those dissenting opinions printed in various journals in different parts of the country; but not because they intended to urge his momination on account of those opinions. We quote:

"It is proposed to ran tim because his entire life has been an assertion of the proposition that the neople of the United States have granted certain defined powers only to the Government of the Union and have reserved all of her powers in themselves, and because it has been one continued protect and remonstravee azalast the proposition that the Government of the Union may usurp at its pleasure powers which the people have refused to grant to it, and have reserved in themselves. His dissorting opinions assert these propositions constantly, and they are sent through the country to show the people that this has been the doctrine of his life. He as not made a candidate because he has river dissorting opinions on these vital matters of the character described. His dissorting opinions on these vital matters of the character described. His dissorting opinions are used further an any letter on the subject that he may have written, or any speech that he zeay have made, is used. If that is all, he is no wise differs from

If that is all, be in no wise differs from Mr. SEYMBUR, or Mr. BAYARD, or General HANCOCK. Their "whole lives have been an assertion of the proposition that the people of the United States," &c., &c., (See above.) But now did it happen that Mr. LINCOLN appointed Mr. FIELD & judge? How did it happen that a man holding such opinions did all he could against the South during the war, and was never suspected of having the least particle of that sympa-letter. Nor will the people of the Ninth district do so. The News makes the following sensible remarks:

"Our jojury was wrought by all these disturbances to our finances; and now that we have reached resumption, to reopen the battle and attempt to disturb them again will not only dear open our bealing wounds, but of course forever reader it impossible. but of course forever render it impossible for us to get control of the National Gov-ernment again. mar its beauty, nor allow others to do it.

The Dispatch says it would not vote for the editor of this journal to go to Cincinnati to vote for Judge Field. We have no concealments to make in respect to this or not other such matter. The editor of this fournal does desire to be sent as a defigate to the constant, and he hopes that it will be the pleasure of the Convention to send i im there as such.

As to what he would do when there he has this to say: He thinks that Judge Field presents in himself more elements of strength than any other critical to the United States. At the same time, he recognizes the fact that the serious part of this battle is to be fought in the northern and western States. He should therefore never think of undertaking to crowd Judge Field upon the Democracy of those States against their will.

If they should say that they could carry their States with Mr. Seymour, or Mr. Bayard, or General Hancock, and that they could not carry them with Judge Field, he should feel himself compelled to drop Jucge Field and take up the person that those states demanded.

This is his position. He believes that we should go for the most available mar. He thinks Judge Field the most available mar, he thinks Judge Field the most available man, but if the northern Democracy think differently, he should feel compelled to adopt their views.—Commonwealth.

We let Mr. Royall, speak for himself, as

We let Mr. ROYALL speak for himself, as we have evidently misunderstood his position, and our article of yesterday represented him as desiring to have men elected to the State Convention pledged to send him any particular person. We are not fighting to Cincinnati as a delegate committed to the to elect any particular man, but to elect support of Judge FIELD.

We are afraid that it is too late for our neighbor to become an ardent advocate of say so, which we doubt-he of course Mr. SEYMOUR'S nomination. He has said too many hard things about him. Neverriously, we do not deem it at all important theless, if he will promise to drop FIELD theless, if he will promise to drop FIELD of Powhatan county held at the Courthouse and take up Seymour we will no longer object to sending him to Cincinnati.

> WHY GRANT WON'T BE NOMINATED .- The Chicago Tribune, edited by Hon. JOSEPH MEDILL, and one of the ablest of the BLAINE organs, takes the following sensible and gates. The committee reported the name practical view:

"The Republican office-bolders from the outhern States who will be here as delegates will have their ears and eyes open to the consequence of a blunder that may be made in the nomination. They may admire Grant much, but they love their of-tices more. They will not care to reck-lessly peril the possession of their comfort-able situations. What they want is success. They want the party to win, and have been acting on the supposition that the thirdterm issue was the strongest and most cap-tivating one that could be presented to the people of the North. When they come up here they will be undeceived in this regard. They will see that it is the weakest and most repellant of all issues."
